

PRESS RELEASE

Area Businesses Form Alliance to Offer An Affair of the 5 Senses

Naperville, IL - Chef By Request, Ishman Body Care Center, and Festive Singers have combined their areas of expertise to create a sophisticated new entertaining experience – An Affair of the Five Senses. This unique event offers top-notch cuisine, rejuvenating chair massage and timeless musical entertainment in the setting of your choice. Guests can savor cuisine prepared for a gourmet palate while receiving a rejuvenating chair massage and listening to the sounds of Mozart or Gershwin in the captivating space of an inviting garden, home or gathering place.

Party-givers may entertain an intimate gathering of 15 friends or more guests with an evening or afternoon of sensual delights. Under the guidance of event planning staff, any host or hostess may select from pre-designed options for menu, music, and chair massage, or may custom-tailor this Affair of the 5 Senses.

Allison Ishman, owner of Ishman BodyCare Center, is looking forward to the collaboration. "Tony Sansone at Chef by Request and Stacie Steinke of Festive Singers are really the party experts. I'm looking forward to seeing chair massage become more accessible to people in their homes and social settings. This is a positive partnership for all of us." Ishman, Sansone and Steinke met each other and began planning the new event concept at several Naperville Chamber of Commerce events. Stacie and Allison met at an "Entrepreneur University" class and began discussing working together. When they thought about the possibility of creating a unique atmosphere for a party, they approached Sansone for catering. He was very excited about offering a special party package to his clients. At that point they knew that An Affair of the 5 Senses was going to be a new and exciting service for the Western Suburbs. "This is simply another fine example of how collaboration with fellow Chamber members can lead to exciting new ventures," Sansone said.

According to Steinke, "All three businesses spent the time to prepare and pre-plan this event so that it would be incredibly easy to plan and host. With only one person to contact and one invoice to pay, a 5 Senses event is an enjoyable afternoon for both guests and hosts."
